dent, and Mrs. Florence George, past president. The exercises were opened with an address by Commander Faunce. Then followed a program of considerable merit. George Scott sang several comic songs in his own inimitable way. Miss Gleeson gave a recitation, A. V. Holmes contributed a mandolin soio, Miss Donnelly a song, Miss Cavanaugh a recitation, Miss Don a vocal solo and Mr. Cullen a banjo selection.

The ladies having charge of the entertainment were Miss Sadie E. Underwood, chairment were Miss Sadie E. Underwood, chairment were Miss Sadie E. man, and Mrs. Thorne Cardells, Overaker, Kelly, Graham, Sneeden, Averley and Wright. FOUNDATION OF THE ORDER.

This order was instituted some seven years ago and is entirely distinct from all other orders of the G. A. R. in that its membership incharged soldiers, sailors and marines who fought to preserve the nation. Army nurses are eligible to membership, also all comrades of the G. A. R., either as active or honorary members. To be more explicit, eligibility for membership includes only the wives, mothers, daughters and sisters of the Union soldiers, and it stands today the only organization of its kind that are not liable for keeping open on Sunday and has strictly followed the line and kept, like the last Sunday, it is stated, several Pennsylvania first Sunday, it is stated, several Pennsylvania arenue saloon keepers kept their places open. The police reported the several places to Prosecuting and spirit part and parcel of the Union veterans. It aims to honor the memory of the fallen eroes, to perpetuate and keep forever sacred new law no warrant could be issued. Memorial day and to watch the public schools and see to it that the youth of the land imbibe a proper education in the true principles of It also aims to establish homes for orphan children and for all members of the soldiers' leaves his niece, Adele Clagett, $200, to remain household who are in distress, including the on interest during her minority and then be soldler himself, and seeks his co-operation to that effect as well as his membership in the order now here established. An illustration of the good the circles have accomplished in the sisters, and as a mark of affection he leaves to state of Pennsylvania is the founding of a home his brother, James F. Duhamel, any article of there for the aged helpless mothers of the personal effects he may select, and the rest of soldiers, some of whom were transferred from the estate he leaves to his mother, whom he the aims house to the new home.

The membership of the order now numbers throughout the country some 20,000. In eight states there are fully organized circle departments, having not less than ave circles each, and in many states there are circles owing their allegiance directly to the national organiza-tion. In the state of Virginia there is one colored circle of large membership and in a flour-ishing condition. In all, some one hundred circles in different states, under the banner of fraternity, charity and loyalty, are doing a good and noble work in aiding the widow and

MRS. NELLIE C. ROYCE At the public installation held a few months ago at the Congregational Church Mrs. Nellie C. Royce was inducted into the office of president of the circle by Mrs. Carrie V. Sherriff of Pennsylvania, the national president, Mrs. Royce, nee Stinson, is a native of the old granite state, and studied music in the New England Conservatory in Boston, and, gradu-ating with high honors, bid fair to be one of the leading artists of America, but she is now the happy wife of Mr. James B. Royce, a native of Vermont and an ex-soldier whose bravery and loyalty is fully attested by the empty sleeve dangling at his side. Mrs. Royce is a lady of sweet and kindly disposition, of good executive ability and a born leader. The circle is to be congrainlated in the selection of one so eminently fitted to organize and build up the order and to elevate to the high plane for good deeds contemplated by the founders. There is only one circle in this city and it has been deemed wise to have but one circle here to comprise an unlimited membership on the principle that in unity there is strength. In the circle there is much musical talent and it is in contemplation the forming of a female Grand Army choir which would be at once novel and attractive.

The present membership is fifty-four and accessions are rapidly being made as its principles are understood. The order is a noble one and deserves the patronage of all wives, mothers, daughters and sisters of all Union soldiers.

Car Couplers Discussed. At the afternoon session of the railroad commissioners of the states yesterday in the rooms of the interstate commerce commission a variety of subjects were discussed. Among them was the proper kind of car a couplers. Several propositions were made as to the best means to reach a conclusion as to the most practical type. It was stated that the law enacted by the last Congress required that automatic couplers should be used and complaints of its violation to be lodged with the various district attorneys by the interstate commerce commission. It had been purposely left to the railroad men to select the form of coupling, that the authorities should not seem to be forcing any particular kind upon them to the financial advantage of

A REFERENCE LIBRARY FOR ALEXANDRIA. The Alexandria library has been lying unused for some years. Some time, since at the suggestion of Librarian Spofford of the Congressional Library, Mr. John R. Zimmerman. one of Alexandria's most enterprising citizens, who presided at a library meeting, proposed, as a means of renewing interest in the matter, the establishment at the library rooms, in the Peabody building, of a free reference library, made up of encyclopedias, dictionaries of all subjects and reference books of every character, so that an easy method of ascertaining facts might be offered when questions arose in the ordinary table talk of the hour or in controversics. A small sum is now on deposit in the treasury of the city school board for this purpose and it is thought that so useful a work, which might hed at little cost, cannot be much longer delayed.
